MASSPORT'S

Foreign Trade Zone

Your import/ export advantage

At Massport, Adding Value is Our Business

The Massachusetts Port Authority (Massport) is a dynamic independent public authority, responsible for operating New England's premier airport and seaport facilities, stimulating the local economy and facilitating international trade. You can depend on us to get your import or export cargo quickly and efficiently to your markets—whether in the U.S. or around the globe—and to keep your costs competitive.

Massport's FTZ #27: Your Value-Added Advantage

When you use a foreign trade zone (FTZ) like Massport's FTZ #27, you save time and money. That's because within the FTZ foreign goods are considered to be in international commerce and not subject to customs duties unless or until entered into the U.S. In addition, raw materials, parts and components can enter duty-free. Goods can then be assembled, manufactured or processed—and the final product re-exported—without paying customs duties. Some of the things a foreign trade zone lets you do are:

- bring in product incrementally, thereby preserving cash flow and gaining interest savings;
- repair, salvage or clean a product for distribution;
- store and repack merchandise for export or domestic distribution; and
- manufacture product from foreign and/or domestic parts.

Choice Location, Excellent Access

Massport's general-purpose FTZ #27 consists of 128 acres conveniently located at various sites around Boston Harbor and easily accessible by highways I-93 and I-95 as well as the Massachusetts Turnpike and the Ted Williams and Sumner Tunnels. Because of its proximity to Logan International Airport and the public terminals in the Port of Boston, FTZ #27 serves importers to the six-state New England region and wider domestic U.S. markets as well as exporters to markets worldwide.

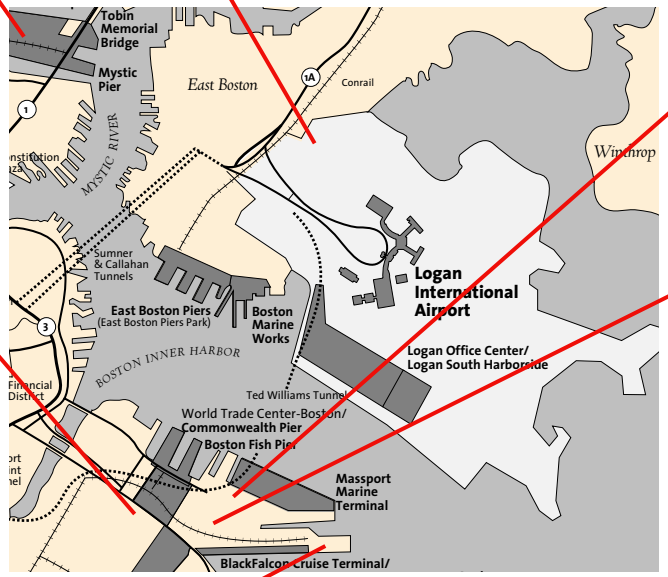
Charlestown: This site is the 62-acre Boston Autoport at Moran Terminal and Mystic Pier, a dedicated automobile import/export processing terminal. It includes 250,000 square feet of indoor storage space, on-dock rail and good highway connections.

647 Summer Street: This 10-acre site includes a one-story, 466,000-square-foot building. Complete services include logistics management, warehousing, packing, assembly, distribution, heated storage and more. Adjacent to the Ted Williams Tunnel to Logan, it is five minutes from Conley Container Terminal. FTZ operator at this site is Summit Logistics, phone: 617-269-9990, fax: 617-269-9991.

East Boston: There are three sites comprising 39 acres in and around Logan International Airport that cover assorted fuel farm facilities. Bosfuel, the FTZ operator of the East Boston/Logan Airport site, can be contacted through William J. Phelan, c/o Charter Brokerage Corp., telephone 203-967-4140, fax 203-325-3056.



Buildings 117 and 118: Approximately ten acres within Marine Industrial Park, known as International Cargo Port-Boston, this will be Boston's largest waterfront intermodal transportation facility. It offers approximately 400,000 square feet of warehouse and related office space and use of the adjacent dock.

FTZ #27's Specific Sites

Northern Avenue: This three-acre site consists of two buildings at 301 and 315 Northern Avenue, for a total of 56,782 square feet.

Harbor/Channel Streets: Just over four acres, it includes two buildings—a nine-story building with 315,000 square feet located at 12 Channel Street and a two-story building of 145,285 square feet at 6 Harbor Street.

FOREIGN TRADE SUBZONES

A subzone is an area geographically distant from the general-purpose FTZ and designated for a specific use and user. Subzones are located at the user's private facility and authorized when a firm's operations cannot be accommodated within the physical confines of the general-purpose zone. Subzones offer the same benefits as the general-purpose zone. There are currently seven activated subzone sites sponsored by FTZ #27: four Polaroid manufacturing sites around Massachusetts; Lawrence Textile in Lawrence; Varian Corporation in Gloucester; and Mass Heavy Industry in the Quincy Shipyard.
